

All about me

Hello, my name is Jo Bamberger and it's my job to help you. I thought you'd like to know a little bit more about me.

My job

I am a social worker for children – I have worked with children with disabilities and their families for many years. I work to keep you safe, work out what you need in order for you to get the best out of life and to help you and your parents to get the right support to show how amazing you are. I help you to work out and achieve your goals to the best of your ability at home, at school or college and in your local community.

I am...

Fun

Kind

Creative

Calm

Steady

My proudest moment as a case manager was...

Working to support an amazing single mum, who was the sole carer of several disabled children, to get them in to the right school, to find better housing and to take back some control over her and her children's lives and advocate for herself and her children.

When I was growing up I wanted to be...

Initially a policeman, but then I found my love of working with children and families as a social worker and case manager and being able to work longer term with people to make a positive difference.

My hidden talent is...

In the summer, at the weekend, I teach children (and the occasional adult) to sail racing dinghies!

I am happy when...

Singing in my ladies' Barbershop choir, meeting friends and spending time with my family.

I don't like...

Gloomy days and eating celery (yuck!).
